Albany sets vote on status

Will decide in December if township should become a plantation

By ALISON ALOISIO
Albany Township will vote Dec. 5 on whether to become Albany Plantation — even though such a change could double taxes.
About 100 residents gathered Sunday afternoon to discuss the question of organizing into a plantation. Such a move, some believe, could give residents more power to fight the Passamaquoddy Tribe's proposal to build a high-stakes bingo hall — and eventually, perhaps, a casino — in this rural township.
Although residents have been successful so far in preventing the project from going forward, there

Telstar playoffs underway

Field hockey
The toughest opponent the Telstar field hockey team faces this playoff season may be time.
Because of the new playoff system in which all teams make the playoffs, the #2-ranked Rebels have had to sit and wait for an opponent for 13 days.
They will play in the Class C quarterfinals Tuesday at home against the winner of Friday's game between Traip (#7) and St. Dom's (#10).
It's a challenge to keep a top-ranked team sharp with a two-week layoff, said coach Gail Wight. Some even see the playoff format as discouraging teams from trying to finish high. "Everyone wishes we were playing tomorrow," Wight said Tuesday.
But she has come up with ways to keep her squad tuned up and emotionally up. "We find something

New contract could bring cable to Cushman and Billings hill roads

By ALISON ALOISIO
A new tentative agreement between Woodstock and the Adelphia cable company could qualify Cushman Hill and Billings Hill roads for cable service.
The new 10-year agreement decreases the house density per mile requirement from 20 houses to 15, according to Vern Maxfield, Woodstock town manager.
Information provided by Adelphia shows the Cushman Hill Road having 14 houses over .7 miles. Billings Hill Road has 14 houses over .8 miles. Cable runs by the end of both roads. Maxfield said he plans to check with Adelphia about whether the roads qualify for service. Some residences on the roads currently use satellite dishes.

Another provision in the agreement would install technology to allow live broadcasts from the Woodstock Elementary School. If SAD44 wanted the service, Maxfield said, events such as Grandparents' Day could be aired for the enjoyment of grandparents unable to leave their homes.
The Whitman Memorial Library could receive Internet service through the new agreement. The library currently gets free service through the Maine School and Library Network, Maxfield said, but there is no guarantee the service will continue to be free. The cable agreement would provide another

ASC posts fourth-quarter loss

Associated Press
American Skiing Co. on Monday posted a $30.8 million net loss for the fourth quarter as the company moved to sell down its real estate inventory and reduce debt.
The loss came to $1.01 per diluted share. For the same three-month period last year, American Skiing lost $22.5 million, or 74 cents per diluted share.
Revenues for the three months ended July 30 totaled $51.1 million, compared with $18.1 million for the same period in 1999. Higher real estate revenue accounted for the sharp increase.
Shortfalls in sales and closings at The Canyons Grand Summit Hotel and cost overruns at The Canyons had a negative impact on real estate earnings, the company said.
For all of fiscal 2000, American Skiing lost $52.5 million, or $1.73 per diluted share, compared with a loss of $32.3 million, or $1.07 per diluted share, the previous year.
"Although the past two ski seasons were disappointing because of unfavorable weather, we look to the upcoming ski season with a new level of confidence for both our resort and real estate businesses," said Leslie B. Otten, chairman and

Mt. Abram owners say they are shocked by bank's foreclosure

Considering their own legal options

By REBECCA ZICARELLI
Mt. Abram is going back on the auction block.
Last Monday, Randy and Kathy Dunican talked about their plans to open the mountain for the winter, despite the two strokes Randy had suffered.
On Wednesday, as The Citizen was going to press, the Dunicans were notified that the Camden National Bank, their mortgage holder, intended to sell the ski area at public auction. A public notice appeared in the Lewiston Sun Journal on Saturday, stating that a foreclosure auction would take place "for breach of contract."
Just what the breach of contract is remains unclear. The Dunicans have publicly stated that their mortgage is paid through January 2001.
Randy Dunican, when asked if he had any idea that this would happen, said, "None whatsoever. I thought we had an agreement with the bank. Mt. Abram is current with our lending institution."

Michael S. Haenn, the attorney representing the bank, said that he could not comment on the nature of the breach of contract. "I have been in contact with the Dunicans' attorney about the underlying loan obligations for several months now," he said, "but I cannot say what the Dunicans do or do not know. I cannot answer questions that plainly address the relationship between the Camden National Bank and the Dunicans."
In a notice to the Dunicans, prepared by Haenn's office and filed with the Greenwood Town Office, the Camden National Bank states its intention to foreclose "loans for approximately 1.928 million dollars (approximate aggregate)."
The notice also states, "In the event such public sale does not satisfy the entire outstanding obligation due to CNB and secured by the mortgage, you will remain li-

MDOT has no quick answers on traffic signal

Promises to restudy all the data, as well as input from local residents
By MICHAEL DANIELS
It may be the numbers do warrant placing a traffic light at the intersection of the Parkway and Route 2, an engineer for the Maine Department of Transportation told the Bethel selectmen Monday.
Or it may be they do not, but in any case MDOT does not have the $40,000 to $65,000 needed to install a light.
If a light is not likely to be installed there in the near term, he said, there may be other actions MDOT can take to improve safety at the intersection.
Engineer Bruce Ibarguen said the department's initial analysis of the traffic flow at the intersection did not produce the numbers needed to warrant placing a light there.
And the initial analysis of the accident rate at the intersection (a factor that influences how the traffic numbers are interpreted) did not point to the need for a light, he said.
Based on analysis of 1996-98 data, Ibarguen said, "The accident experience was not particularly bad."
But he noted that more recent data appeared to tell another story. "Over the last nine months, late 1999 and through 2000 there seemingly has been a jump in accident

A PUBLIC HEARING HAS BEEN SET FOR TONIGHT (Oct. 19) on an upcoming referendum asking Bethel voters to approve taking by eminent domain a 700-foot right of way (solid line above) through property owned by Richard and Mary Valentine abutting the Bethel Airport. The right of way, for which the Valentines have been offered $12,200 is needed if the town is to go ahead with the proposed expansion of the airport runway. The hearing will be held at 7 p.m. in the Bethel Town Office meeting room. If the room proves too small for the number of people who turn out, the hearing will be moved to the Crescent Park School.

CITIZEN GUILTY OF PROFILING

To the Editor:

Not only have I been abused by the Bethel Police, I feel really abused by your editorializing and headline writing: "Should have stayed on the scene." I am appalled by your tabloid-style journalism. It is inappropriate. You don't know the facts and you certainly don't know whether or not I left the scene or whether the accusations against me are true. You chose to sensationalize and defame me. My day in court is Nov. 13 and your paper is not the court.

At a time when this nation is confronting the dastardly practice of profiling, I know now how it feels to be profiled not once but twice. I know why the police treated me the way they did, but I cannot understand why you needed to make me headline news.

Since becoming president/CEO of NTL, I have been a good corporate and private citizen in/of Bethel, choosing to move the president's office to Bethel each summer as a statement of affirmation of the community. Most assuredly I would not leave the scene to jeopardize my personal or corporation's reputation.

I want the people that I bring to Bethel from around the world to feel welcomed. I want the people that I bring from New York City to feel welcomed. I can truly understand from firsthand knowledge what some participants have told me about how they are made to feel less than welcomed in Bethel having now swallowed my own dose of local medicine.

I hope you will publish this in the letters-to-the-editor section.

Diane M. Porter
President/CEO NTL Institute
Alexandria, Va.

(Response: The incident involving Ms. Porter was handled in the same manner as hundreds of other incidents reported over the years in the Bethel Police Log. The log does not pass judgment on the guilt or innocence of the individuals named — and all adults who have been summoned or arrested are named — it simply reports from the public record on the documented activities of the Bethel Police Department. If we are later made aware a charge reported in the log has been dropped, or an individual has been found not guilty of it, we are happy to report that fact as well. —MRD)

BLOW HER BUBBLES ELSEWHERE

To the Editor:

I recently attended a parents' and students' day held at the Woodstock Elementary School. This annual event seeks to foster a positive relationship between students, parents, town citizens and teachers for the benefit of young students' education.

The local parent teachers association and Whitman Library set up tables with information for students, parents and townspeople for this education.

For the first time in anyone's memory, a political candidate set up a table just outside the door to the Woodstock Elementary School. Many parents were upset by this tactic.

But, there was Jolene Lovejoy, the Republican Party candidate for Maine House Legislative District 70 seat, passing out her campaign literature to adults as well as bubble-blowing solution to the children.

I certainly do not think it was appropriate for this political candidate to be at the parents' and students' education day at the elementary school, so I am writing this letter to the editor.

And I think candidate Lovejoy should know that her bubble-blowing solution will not gain her many votes from the practical people of Woodstock.

INVITATION TO THE FORUM

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the Bethel Citizen for running the front-page article last week entitled "Economic study examines SAD44's micro-economy." Thanks also for including the quote from me, "The report is not intended to sit on a shelf and collect dust, but to provoke us to action in some form or another, to tell us if there are things we can/should be doing to stay on course."

The Bethel area chamber is inviting the greater Bethel area community to gather Monday afternoon, Oct. 23 at the Jordan Grand Hotel, Sunday River Ski Resort, to explore the results of a regional economic study as well as the findings from the recently conducted Business Visitation Program (BVP). Seventy-nine businesses representing the diverse economic mix of the SAD44 area participated in the BVP and by doing so, have given us some valuable insights into both their challenges and hopes. By examining the results of both of these reports, the Chamber's Economic Development Committee has noticed specific trends and would like to enlist the help of the wider community to determine what action steps need to be taken.

Registration starts on Monday at 11:30 a.m. in the lobby of the Jordan Grand Hotel and is followed by a free buffet lunch. After brief presentations on the reports there will be lots of opportunity for discussion in small groups before wrapping up at 5 p.m. We ask that interested persons please RSVP by noon this Friday, Oct. 20, to the chamber office, 824-2282.

On behalf of the entire Board of Directors and the Economic Development Committee, I am extending a sincere invitation to folks from all corners of our SAD44 community to join us on Monday afternoon.

Robin Zinchuk, Executive Director

PLEASE DONATE TO YARD SALE

To the Editor:

The time has come for Albany folks to help pay off the remaining debt from the three-year battle to save our region from large-scale gambling development on the banks of the Crooked River. The Albany Improvement Association still needs to raise over $3,000 to cover these costs.

Please donate five or more quality items for the community fundraiser "Town House" yard sale scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 28. Until then, the Albany Town House will be open to drop off contributions each Sunday from 2 to 3 p.m., or call 824-2568 to schedule another time.

Also, when you drive Route 5 past the Old West Bethel Road, don't forget to look west across the fields toward the White Mountain National Forest to the landscape and animal habitat you helped to protect.

NEW FEATURES AT SKI SALE

To the Editor:

The 20th annual Bethel Outing Club Ski Sale will offer alpine, cross-country and snowboarding enthusiasts a number of new features. Ski Depot will mount bindings for the sale on both Friday night and Saturday, so that purchasers can leave with "hill-ready" equipment. Carter's Cross-Country Ski Center will offer the same service for cross-country skiers on Friday night. The sale will take place at the Gould Academy Field House on Friday evening, Oct. 27 from 6:30 to 9 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 28 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Also new this year, representatives from SWIX Wax will offer ski waxing and ski-base maintenance clinics for both recreational and competitive cross-country skiers during sale hours on Friday night.

Held annually since 1981, the sale has over a dozen ski shops that bring thousands of items of alpine, snowboarding, and cross-country equipment. Individuals may also bring equipment to sell, subject to a 15 percent consignment fee, on Friday, Oct. 27, anytime after 3 p.m.

Proceeds of the sale support local youth-cross-country skiing programs. The purpose of the Bethel Outing Club is to promote nordic skiing and family-oriented outings with particular emphasis on youth ski programs. For further information, contact Ann Speth at 824-2586.

THANKS FROM DEENA AND GERARD

To the Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude for the way the town was very supportive of our efforts in creating The Maine Press.

After six and a half years, we are now passing the Press to someone very well known in the Rumford community, Tom Bourret, owner of Dorion Printing Services and now owner of The Maine Press here in Bethel. Tom and The Maine Press have had a very successful business relationship in the past, and it seems very fitting that he is now the new owner; and we are excited about the shop continuing to serve the people and business owners of Bethel. We will be assisting him in a smooth transition and hope you will stop by and say hi.

We have enjoyed the lively conversation, friendly faces and all those eclectic projects along the way, and wish to say thanks again.

COMMITTEE FORMING ON MIDDLE SCHOOL

To the Editor:

We would like to invite Telstar Middle School parents and all other interested community members to join us in organizing a new committee that will explore a variety of interests related to the academic program at the Middle School. The committee will provide a forum for parents, faculty, and administrators to engage in meaningful and positive dialogue and to share in the responsibility for our children's education.

The new committee will be discussed at the next Friends of TMS meeting, Thursday, Oct. 19, at 6:30 p.m. in the library. The first organizing meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 1, at 6:30 p.m. at the Middle School. Everyone interested in the Middle School's academic program is invited to participate, propose issues, and help create the agenda and the direction for the committee. Some initial topics proposed include the Accelerated Reader Program and enrichment groups for middle-schoolers.

Please join us in support of TMS. For more information, call Kara (824-0820) or Pat (583-2261).

FERGUSON

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, Nov. 7, voters will go to the polls to cast their votes for many candidates and to decide important issues. One of the candidates running for reelection is the experienced and dedicated state senator, Norman Ferguson.

As residents of Albany, we have come to know and respect Norm's knowledge of issues and willingness to listen to the concerns of citizens of his district. Since his days working as a county commissioner, Norm has demonstrated his comprehension of how government works and has represented us in Augusta with strong leadership and respect. His many years working in Augusta have provided Norm with a wealth of information needed to understand the often-complex governmental laws and procedures.

We need Norm's continued presence in Augusta. He is not afraid to take a stand on important issues and matters that would have a direct impact on the entire state. He values the opinions of his constituents, communicates readily, and fights for issues we care about with active participation and concern.

Please join others and us as we proudly support Norm Ferguson's reelection to the Maine Senate. He is a candidate with a strong voice for challenging times.

DEROUCHE

To the Editor:

Yes, it is the season for fall colors, frost on the pumpkins, ghost and goblins, and how can we forget — it is also an election year. On every street corner you can find signs that indicate how beneficial an individual will be if elected by the people. Well, I am writing to tell "the people" that they need to sit down and visit with these VIPs (Very Interested Politicians).

One day last week I sat down and did just that with District 24 Senate candidate Joe Derouche of Mexico. After two years of observing the incumbent, Norman Ferguson, look his constituents in the eye and tell them he will support a bill that assists the aging, then examine the "roll call" and find that he voted "nay," I found it was time to explore for alternative voices in the capitol. In 1999, Norman Ferguson had said outside the Senate chamber that he would support LD 1552 (an increase in Meals on Wheels funds by $100,000), and voters felt that he would support this priority issue for the elderly. The next day, when the "roll call" was reviewed, Sen. Ferguson voted "nay."

As you can tell, I support adequate services to the aging population, not only in Northern Oxford County, but the entire state. With this, I sat down for coffee with candidate Derouche and discussed the aging issues; not only the highly publicized prescription drug issue, but the Home Health (aging in place) issues, and addressed the "multi-diagnosis" aspects that accompany the aging process. What I found in Joe Derouche was a very compassionate and caring individual that is genuinely concerned with the Northern Oxford County availability of services for the elderly population. Out of our hour conversation, I can honestly say that I trust Joe Derouche is listening to his constituent's voice, and not "name recognition."

Even though the name Joe Derouche has not been on ballots for numerous years in the Senate seat, I offer to you the question, "Trick or Treat"? I feel strongly that Joe Derouche is a treat.

Drew Lawrence

DEROUCHE

To the Editor:

I have known Joe Derouche mainly through the Economic Development Growth Council. Many times, I have come to appreciate Joe's doer attitude when it comes to making decisions and acting upon them.

First as a selectman, then as the town manager of Mexico, Joe has always shown a great interest and dedication to his town, but his work was also directed to the entire valley area, toward which he always showed a profound commitment.

I strongly support Joe's candidacy to the state Senate and believe he will be an excellent senator because of his extensive experience with the needs of Maine's rural and small-town citizens. His knowledge of the ins and outs of local government and his great attachment with the Western Mountain region will make him a very valuable asset for us all in Augusta.

FERGUSON

To the Editor:

Norm Ferguson is running for his fourth and last term as our state senator for District 24. He has faithfully and fairly represented the people of western and northern Oxford County on a full-time basis and has earned our respect and his reelection.

I know how hard it is for working people to serve in the state Legislature. With two to five days devoted to legislative sessions and two to five days devoted to committee work, it is amazing that we have one of the largest "part-time" Legislatures in the country. Unless a legislator owns his/her own business, gets three to five months off from his/her job, or is retired, it is impossible to do the job right. Norm can and will devote all of his time and effort on behalf of his constituents and that's what I want to see in my senator. His seniority and knowledge of the institution and the issues assures us that our interests and concerns here in rural Maine will get the attention they deserve.

Please join me in returning Norman K. Ferguson to Augusta on Nov. 7.

Briefly

Home damaged in fire

ANDOVER—A Wyman Hill Road home received $20,000 to $25,000 in damage Tuesday in a fire caused by the improper placement of combustible material next to a wood stove. Andover Fire Chief Ken Dixon said Laurie Farrington found the fire at about 3:50 p.m. Dixon said only three firefighters responded to the blaze initially because most were out of town. Civilians provided help, however, and the damage was limited to mostly smoke and heat. A dog and two cats died in the fire. The Rumford Fire Department provided mutual aid.

Skateboard elements offered

BETHEL—Selectmen and Police Chief Darren Tripp expressed tentative support Monday for an offer from Sunday River Ski Resort to donate "elements" for a skateboard park next to the proposed pathway. Selectmen said they would like more information regarding liability, lighting, parking and supervision. A request from Sunday River to post a sign promoting its own skateboard park and include its logo on the pathway elements would also likely be an issue for the Planning Board to consider, they said.

Waste agreement tabled again

BETHEL—Selectmen Monday again tabled a proposed interlocal agreement and request for bids for a joint transfer station that would be shared among Bethel, Newry and Hanover. Board members said they wanted more information regarding the implications of bidding out the proposal, as well as further refinement of the agreement. Newry selectmen Tuesday also tabled the question, pending a decision from Bethel.

Planners approve market

BETHEL—The Bethel Planning Board last week approved a site application plan for "Main Street Market," to be located in a former gas station building at the corner of Vernon Street. The market was proposed by Cathi DiCocco, owner of Café Di Cocoa, which is located next door. The plan was approved with the condition that any exterior lighting not affect abutters' properties.

Beach plan update

BETHEL—Members of the Bethel Beach Committee met with DEP officials last Wednesday for a preliminary review of the proposed swimming pond on the North Road. DEP officials said the project will not require a stormwater permit. The project will require a Permit By Rule for soil disturbance, grading activities, and a bridge across Chapman Brook. They have also recommended a wetland delineation for the site, and may require a wetland alteration permit based on that study. Don Bennett, chairman of the beach committee, said he felt DEP was supportive of the town's efforts, and believed that there would be no significant environmental hurdles.

SAD44 to apply for tobacco money

BETHEL—SAD44 will apply for a share of federal tobacco settlement money, to be used toward establishing a comprehensive health program in the district. School directors voted Tuesday to authorize administrators to apply for funding. SAD44 could receive between $30,000 and $33,000 a year for five to eight years, principal Patrick O'Neill said. Most of the money would be used to hire a half-time health coordinator. SAD44 is one of three Maine districts applying for the grant through joining the River Valley Healthy Communities Coalition, the agency administering the grant application process. O'Neill said the district should hear by March if it will receive the funds.

Three hurt in crash

MILTON TOWNSHIP—A head-on collision on Route 232 left one woman with a broken arm and a mother and son with bruises and abrasions last Wednesday. Two cars collided at 7:30 a.m. about a half-mile from the Rumford town line. Claire Roberts, 64, of Milton sustained a broken arm. She was treated at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway and released. Lynn Richards, 29, and son, Andrew Busque, received bruises and abrasions and were treated at Rumford Hospital. Both cars were totaled. The accident is under investigation.

Couple killed in motorcycle crash

SHELBURNE, N.H.—A Madison, N.H. couple was killed Sunday when their motorcycle collided with an oncoming car passing in a no-passing zone, according to state police. The car driver, Palaniappan Kaphiresam, 22, of Nashua, was charged with two counts of negligent homicide. Killed in the crash were Benjamin Savary, 52, and Barbara Savary, 47. Police said the car was traveling east on Route 2 near the Maine border. They said it crested a hill while passing, colliding with the motorcycle. The car being passed, driven by Robert Morgan of Gorham, became involved in the collision.

able to CNB for any deficiency thereafter remaining."

The Dunicans are considering legal action of their own. "The lending institution reneged on promises and representation," Dunican said. "All the involved parties will be held accountable."

That intention notwithstanding, it appears the sale of Mt. Abram will go ahead as planned.

But foreclosure auctions are frequently cancelled, right up to auction day, according to David Q. Whitier, an attorney from South Paris and past president of the Maine State Bar Association. "The papers frequently have sale notices with a line through them or cancelled written across them," he said. "There are many reasons why foreclosures don't happen, but in simplest terms, it's because the bank and debtor have made some kind of accommodation."

A Nov. 15 auction

The sale of Mt. Abram is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Nov. 15, 2000, at the Bethel Inn and Country Club. The sale is being handled by Auction Properties, Ltd.

There will be two separate auctions. The first, for the skiway and the equipment to run it, requires a bidder to have a certified check or cash for a deposit in the amount of $50,000. The second, for 13 development parcels around the mountain, requires a $10,000 deposit. The 13 parcels are to be sold in a single sale.

The winning bidder's deposits must be increased to 10 percent of the purchase price within five days of the auction. A closing must take place within 45 days.

Open for the holidays?

Tom Saturely, president of Auction Properties, Ltd., said, "I hope that with the right purchaser on Nov. 15 we can get the mountain up and running for the holiday season. It is important to the mountain and to the town to get underway so that a new owner can get the mountain up and running as quickly as possible."

Since the sale was announced, Saturely said he has received a number of calls from people interested in the mountain, many with questions about forming a group to purchase it and expressing support.

"I have spoken to a number of individuals that care about the mountain," Saturely said. "It is their goal to keep the mountain open."

Good will from the Mt. Abram community

Mt. Abram, long known as a family mountain, has a tremendous following of neighbors and friends willing to help any owner.

Dick Lane and his wife purchased a condominium at Mt. Abram in 1987. His sister and brother-in-law, Fran and Pat Kearney, purchased a condo next door at the same time. "Pat died six years ago," Lane said. "They named Pat's Pass after him. For our family, there is a lot of meaning there. Our children and grandchildren ski there. My sister's grandchildren ski to ski on the trail named after their grandfather."

The Kany family also has a third generation skiing on the mountain. Bill Kany Sr., the treasurer of the Mt. Abram Chalet Association (his son was mistakenly identified as the treasurer in last week's article about Mt. Abram), began skiing there in '68 and bought a chalet in '72.

"We're trying to let prospective buyers know that they have the full support of the Chalet Association," Kany said. "We love Mt. Abram. It's our winter. We don't go to Florida, we go to Mt. Abram."

Families like the Kany and the Lanes have fond memories about their involvement with the mountain — a fountain of good will that is a key ingredient for any business to be successful. During the foreclosure sale three years ago, they discussed creating a group to purchase the mountain or support a new owner. Today, with a sad sense of déjà vu, they find themselves having similar talks with family members and friends from the Mt. Abram community.

"For two years, things went very well," Kany said. "Now, we hope that someone will come along that has the financing, the know how, and the experience to run the mountain."

Waiting on a new owner

For the many people who love to ski at Mt. Abram and the people that work there, questions about the mountain's future will have to wait until the auction takes place and a new owner is on the job.

Some of the mountain's friends purchased season passes for the coming season last winter and wonder what will happen to those passes or the funds spent on them. Most people are just praying for snow and for the mountain to open.

For the many other members of the Mt. Abram community The Citizen spoke to, there is frustration about the uncertainty of the coming ski season and the mountain's future. They've been here before, and they are worried about losing something they've come to love and cherish. They are ready and willing to help any new owner of Mt. Abram to protect what they called "the Mt. Abram experience."

"What's happened is unfortunate," Bill Kany said, "but we've got to go beyond that. We will work with anybody who buys the mountain."

The Woodstock Republican Committee notes that to date, Oct. 2, fourteen Jolene Lovejoy signs have been taken — stolen. Also, some of the Norman Ferguson signs have been taken. Lovejoy is the Republican candidate for District 70 House of Representatives and Ferguson is a candidate for the Senate. Why? On Oct. 12, seven Lovejoy signs and one Olympia

The Historical Society has established itself as an organization of real significance. It accurately reflects the character of our area and interprets it for everyone who visits the museum or attends a meeting. It represents the best we have and are. Surely this is fine indeed. Thanks to Paul Billings, the Bonneys, the town of Woodstock and everyone else who worked on the clothespin sign at the society. The Historical Society encourages new members to join. We sincerely want the organization to grow and prosper. Dues are modest and programs are interesting to attend. Andy Barlow was lucky enough to get a moose permit, and on the first day of moose season, he was lucky enough to get a moose. While hunting in Riley, the moose crossed his path, and the rest is history. Mark Boudoin, who is logging in the area, dragged the moose roadside with his skidder.

Among other area hunters getting moose the first week of hunting are John McPherson and Mike Gross. Both were reported as hunting in the Andover area.

Judy Ray left her Howard Pond home Wednesday and flew to Austin, Texas, from the Portland Jetport. While in Hanover, she visited many friends and went for early morning walks with her neighbor, Anne Wheeler. Husband Jim Ray remains at the cottage and is looking forward to a visit from his brother, Jody Ray, later this month.

Louise Worcester has a bench in a clearing in the woods near her home on the Howard Pond Road. She was pleased to learn recently that the bench had been painted by some girls, who discovered it while exploring. Louise said that the old bench certainly needed a fresh coat of paint and she appreciates the effort by the girls from Mooselook Lane. Those who pass through the clearing often stop to rest, watch birds and enjoy the wooded glade.

I forgot to mention last week that Andy and I attended the open house for Ada Cummings' 80th birthday. She was very pleased that over 40 people attended. She had a nice cake, ice cream and other goodies, and she received many cards. We wish her a good year ahead. And come to think of it, we wish all of us could look that good at 80. She is a remarkable woman.

I heard this week that the Rev. John Grant of Wells, former pastor of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene, underwent a double bypass on Wednesday at the Veterans' Hospital in Massachusetts. We wish him a speedy recovery and hope that he will be in much better health from now on.

Andy and I were in Portland on Sunday to pick up Roger Fose at the Jetport. He flew in from Wisconsin to drive a U-Haul back to Oshkosh for Dorothy Fadner. He also had a trailer on back to haul her car. I'm glad it was not me. We wish Dorothy all the best now she is permanently back in Wisconsin.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published here by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

Have you ever noticed when a group of women get together, if one of the group happens to be pregnant or recently given birth, each of the other women will start to relieve each and every one of their own pregnancies and deliveries? Have you ever noticed that?

It's true; I've done it myself many times. There just something about a mother-to-be or a new mother that brings all the memories flooding back to us women. It has been said that a woman won't remember what the labor pains were like after it's all over. I guess you know that it wasn't a woman that started that myth. Not only do we remember them, we cherish them, we brag about every single labor pain we ever had, we embellish the memory.

...we cherish them, we brag about every single labor pain we ever had, we embellish the memory.

In all the times I have had the pregnancy/labor discussion with other women, not once have I heard or shared a simple hum-drum experience. Either the labor was very long; "I labored for 78 hours and all but 2 were hard labor, doctor said no had never seen anything like it," or the labor was exceptionally easy. "I just made it to the hospital and that was it, baby came so fast I didn't even have a serious pain, doctor said he'd never seen anything like it."

The pregnancy was very hard. "I had morning sickness all the way through, evening sickness too and I carried the baby for 11 months all of them on my spine!" Or it was very easy, "I never had morning sickness, no back-ache, my feet never swelled and the baby was born two weeks early in the middle of the day and in perfect health!"

Each pregnancy and delivery a woman may go through is different, so we can relate with great understanding every experience we hear. I know I certainly can; my first was born on his due date, but I was in labor forever and my second was close to a month over due, but I almost had her in the hospital hallway, she came so quickly!

I think it's only natural that women should cling to the birthing experience. After all, it is the single most outstanding event of our lives. We carry the child for nine months or there about, we feel it growing, getting stronger, moving around. We get fat and have to wear big, big clothes, we waddle, we have to be catapulsed out of a sitting position, our skin and hair changes, we go through tremendous pain and we give birth — we give life. Of course we have vivid memories of such an event. Why wouldn't we?

What has come as a very recent surprise to me is that men have vivid memories of the experience too. And they talk about it with each other just like women do. I had no idea.

I think it's wonderful that men share these precious moments with one another, however, their perception of the events are quite different from that of the woman's.

A young acquaintance of mine, I'll call him Ricky, a Daddy-to-be, stopped by the office recently and announced that "The kid should be born by the end of the week!" There's the first big difference right there, men always refer to the "kid" and women talk about the "baby."

Anyway, two other men on hand that day, I'll call them Raoul and Fred, got into the conversation with Ricky. I was astounded to hear Raoul and Fred relive the births of their children and bestow upon young Ricky the wisdom of their experiences.

Raoul talked about when "We were in labor." Well I'm sure that Mrs. Raoul would have loved to have shared the pain with him, but "she" was in labor and "he" was there observing it. I asked Raoul what he felt about seeing his wife in such tremendous pain. "She knew what she was getting into, she wanted to have the kid," He said. "Boy did she turn ugly!" At which point Raoul and Fred proceeded to enlighten Ricky as to what he could expect in terms of the personality change and name calling he would have to endure.

It was then I realized that not even in their most constipated moment did they have a single clue as to the intensity of the labor pain.

"When she went into labor, I invited some friends over to help time the contractions. Made a regular party out of it," said Raoul. Isn't that certainly what every woman in labor wants; to be a new party game.

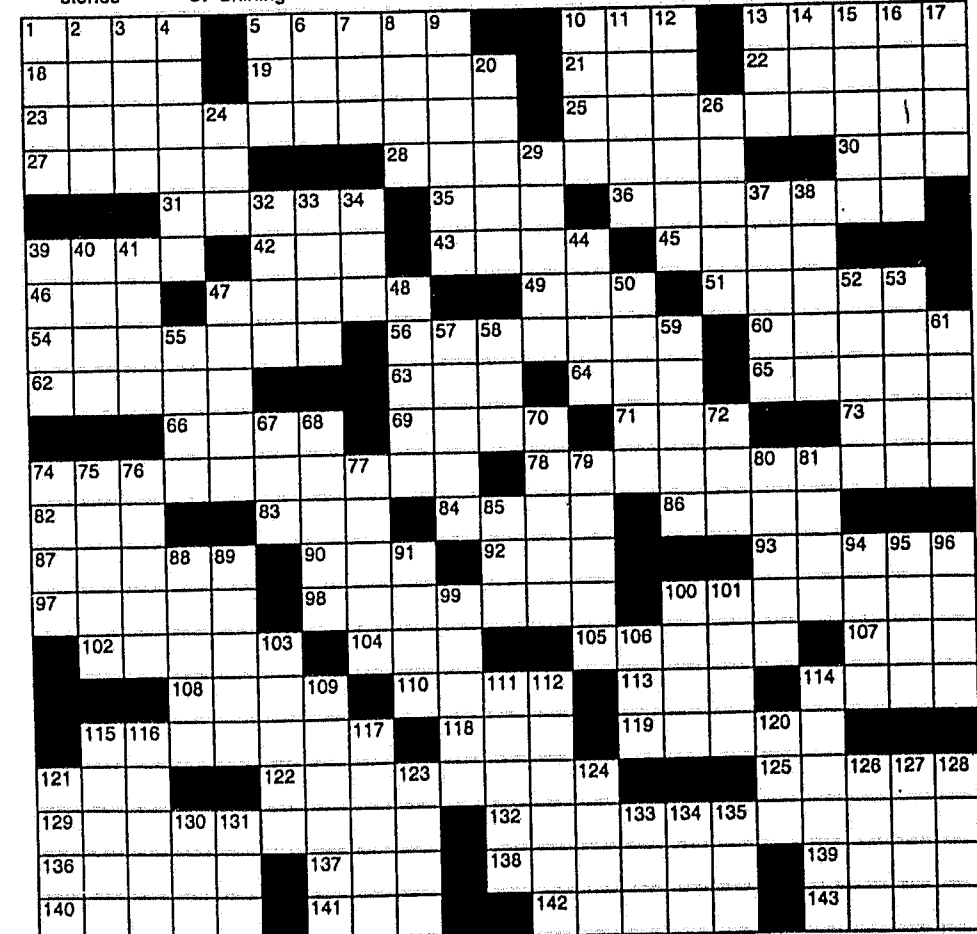

"I almost slept through it," said Fred. "But I came around just in time. Kid shot out just like a cannon ball." Cannon ball indeed! I imagine his wife was thinking "Take this cannon ball right up side the head, Daddy!"

Both Fred and Raoul agreed that being part of the birthing experience was, in spite of everything, wonderful and a time they would never forget. By now Ricky is a new daddy and will have his own "The day the kid was born" stories.

The way I see it, nothing is more wonderful than the birth of a child to loving parents. I think it is great for fathers to share in the experience to whatever extent they can and I'm delighted to know that they cherish the memories and share them with each other. They do need to understand, however, to be loving and supportive during the birthing process may be part of the father's job, but I can guarantee them that it is definitely the mother's labor!

Andover

by
Joan Stinson Carney

Well, it's been quite a week, or should I say quite a weekend. People who say that they aren't superstitious should watch out. Let me tell you about my Friday, the 13th.

First, the starter in my car died. Joe Hall resurrected it, but it still cost me. I then proceeded to go to bingo, and that cost me. I got home from bingo about 9:30 p.m. and had to take my mother to the hospital, and they admitted her. There seems to be some problem with her heart. She is in the ICU at Rumford Hospital doing much better, but they have to do some tests.

Saturday wasn't too bad. My father and I went down to Rumford Hospital. My son, Brian, and his friend, Nina, arrived from Boston to go on a foliage tour. The foliage peaked last week, not this week, but the lobster roll from Rowe's in Dixfield was delicious as usual.

Sunday morning, I had to call 911 for my father. He is now in Rumford Hospital with pneumonia. The nurses are carrying notes back and forth between my parents, but they said no honeymoon. Seriously, the staff at Rumford Hospital is without exception a wonderful, efficient, caring bunch of people. I don't know what I would do without them.

While I was at the hospital Friday evening, I saw a lot of people I knew. Kathi Sennett Knowles was in the same room in the ER with my mother; it seems she has a heart problem, also. It was nice to be able to share the waiting time with her mother, Alice, and her sons. Norma Plantier had been admitted earlier, and Helen Chase is also in residence. Cards, if you can afford them, would be nice. As for me, I'm renting my own private room at the hospital; it will cut down on my traveling time, and when I have a nervous breakdown I won't have to call 911.

Speaking of 911, the Andover Rescue team is fantastic. They are there almost as soon as I hang up the phone, and the people of Med-Care are just as great. I feel really lucky to live in an area where we have such caring, professional help.

The Andover Fire Department is asking for help. They really need more volunteers. When Laurie Farrington's house caught on fire last week, there were only three firemen available for first response. This is a very serious situation. If you can find the time to help out, please call Ken Dixon.

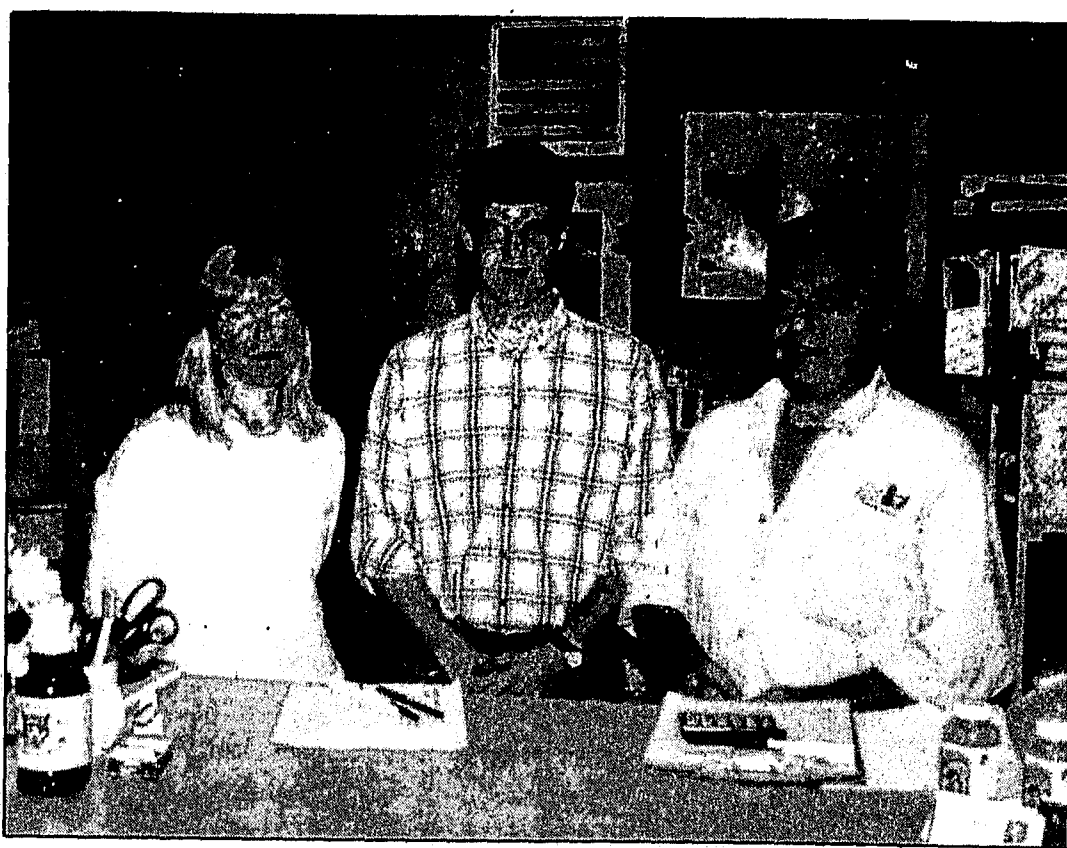

Dear Laurie, I'm so sorry about your troubles. If there is anything I can do, please call.

Every Wednesday a bus comes to town to take senior citizens and others to Rumford for a day of shopping. It seems that this service is in danger of being stopped because only two people use it. If you need a ride to Rumford, and more information about this free service, please call Beverly Sylvester at 392-2676. She will be glad to give you all the details.

Betty Moore has been entertaining again. Her daughter-in-law, Debra Moore and Debra's parents, Luther and Nan Brier from Madison, Fla., were her guests. They went apple picking and saw a moose, which really made their day. No comment. Other guests were Betty's daughter, Shirley, Shirley's husband, and daughter, Sandra Wainwright. They all shared an early Thanksgiving dinner, and Sandra got to see three, count 'em, three moose. Still no comment.

My mother, Marjorie Stinson, will have her 79th birthday on Friday, Oct. 20. She, without a doubt, has been the greatest mother anyone could ever have. Her love for us all, all eight of us, has no limits. Her generous giving of herself through the years has been a precious thing throughout my life, and the lives of everyone she knows. Happy Birthday, Ma, I love you. And yes, you'll get your cake, even if I have to bake it myself, although Shop 'n Save does a better job.

On Saturday, Oct. 7, "Red" Coo-

Tom Bourret (center) of Rumford is the new owner of The Maine Press in Bethel. Bourret recently took over the business from Deena and Gerard Guillet, shown here with him. Bourret also owns Dorion Printing of Rumford, a business he has operated for seven years. The Maine Press (824-8889) is a full-service printer, and will remain essentially the same under new ownership. "This is going to stay The Maine Press," said Deena Guillet. lidge was given a 75th surprise Birthday Party by all of his children at the home of his son, Jim, in South Andover. More than 100 relatives and friends attended from Nova Scotia, Jackman, Ellsworth, Bethel, Andover, Rumford, Dixfield, Livermore, West Paris, Norway, South Paris and New Hampshire. The Katahdin Valley Bluegrass Band played from 2 to 5 p.m. A big cookout was enjoyed at noon. Red extends a "Thank you to all who attended and for the many gifts received. It was truly a surprise and greatly appreciated."

The word of the week is ormolu. Look it up. Then use it in a conversation with someone. Bet you'll surprise them with your knowledge of esoteric words. See ya.

Hi readers. Guess we'll have to get our mittens and long johns out, won't we. It's a cold air out there yesterday and today, but nice if you bundle up. Boy, the people are calling for firewood right and left around here. They know what's coming already.

Albert has had Dean Saunders and Barry Andrews help him saw and split the logs and they have done a good job.

Well, I've got a batch of hot chili on cooking for supper tonight. I made two separate kettles full last week, and it went, so have had a request for more. That's ok, it's easy to make and a good night for it.

Sharon and Nawal Traish from Massachusetts were at their cottage here at Keewaydin Lake this past weekend. Also there were friends Howard Berman and Iona Hunnedy and Zane and Nardia, also from Massachusetts. They all attended the Fryeburg Fair and got fresh-picked apples and cider to take back home with them.

Cheryl and Paul Barnard and Joshua, Jenna and Lindsey flew in to Portland from Newport News, Va., and arrived here about midnight on Friday, Oct. 6. It was a short visit with us, as they had to go back early Sunday morning, but we all enjoyed the visit and weekend. Cheryl works for the U.S. Airways, so it is practically free flying for them. They also attended the Fryeburg Fair. They have good neighbors tending their cats, dogs, etc., while they are away.

Andy and Jenna are doing real good with their store and restaurant here in Stoneham. They have a good variety of meals to choose from now, and if you haven't tried them, do. You'll be glad you did. Everyone I have talked with has had a good word for them.

I haven't heard very much about the sick ones in town. I do care but just don't like to bother them. Hope they're getting along ok. I did hear that Clyde Millett is at home now and that Earl Littlefield is still at Stephens Memorial Hospital, but is improving a bit, which is encouraging.

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19 — don't forget the meeting on Oct. 25. See you there. Keep warm everyone and eat healthy and well.

I talked with Albert Nelson Jr. Tuesday, Oct. 10, at camp at Wilson's Mills, and he said that it had snowed all day up there and that someone had gotten a large, 900-pound moose up beyond the camp. That will fill their freezer, won't it.

North Newry

Gil Seeley

Five generations gathered at the home of Claire and George Romano in Wiscasset to enjoy a birthday party for George and Gil Seeley and a wedding shower for Claire's son, Tom O'Donnell and his bride-to-be, Shannon. Present were the great-great-grandmother, Julia Goodwin; her twin daughters, Hilma and Wilma of Unity; Claire's mother and father, Karlene and Ras Bachelder; Claire's daughter Michelle and husband Paul Josephson, son Nik, and the new baby, who is about one month old, from Cumberland; Heidi and husband Arlan Littlefield and daughter Julie, and her daughter, Natalie of Bethel (Julia, Karlene, Claire, Michelle and Kylie) or (Julia, Karlene, Heidi, Julie and Natalie).

Karlene Bachelder, Gil Seeley and Bea Lowell were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week and did some bowling for fun. On the first string, Karlene was high, beating Gil by two pins and Bea by 13 pins. On the second string, Gil was high, beating Karlene by five pins. On the third string, Karlene was high, beating Gil by two pins and Bea by nine pins. So on the overall scores, Karlene was high, beating Gil by eight pins. She had two spares, Gil two spares and Bea one strike. They went to lunch and did some shopping.

Mrs. Irene Hadfield, a summer resident on Branch Road, passed away on Sunday, Oct. 15, at a nursing home on Cape Cod, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gastonguay Jr. of Greene and Spring Hill, Fla., visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowell Sr. recently. Leo and Bea are distant cousins and hadn't seen one another since the early thirties.

Newry Mothers Club and Recreation Department will have their annual Halloween Party and Haunted House on Sunday, Oct. 29 from 1 to 3 p.m. This year's party will be held at the Newry Grange Hall. All children who come may wear a costume and there will be judging for the best one. Mothers Club members may drop off candy and goodies at the Grange Hall or at Patty's house on or before the party. Call Patty at 824-2860 with any questions. And, as always, volunteers are needed. We are looking for someone to play Dracula or a skeleton man for the haunted house. Hope to see you all there.

West Paris

No news last week due to flu. Vince and Beverly Stevens were at Fryeburg Fair, for a week and a half, where Beverly works in one of the offices.

Jerry and Helen Pepin spent the week working at the fair, also. Jerry drove the Fryeburg Fair Express wagon, carrying people from way out back to the parking lot. On the first Sunday, as he was driving past the tower where Vern works, Jerry said, "When is there an end to the people?" Vern replied, "No end until next Sunday." There was a record attendance and it took quite a few trips.

Saturday, we went to the former Wentzell cottage on Songo Pond for a Nova Scotia Baker reunion for descendants of Angus Baker of Maplewood, Parkdale, Nova Scotia. Cousins present were Rodney Wentzell, Erland Wentzell and wife Margie, Mary Wentzell Eichel and husband Robert, Pearl Pearson Nash and daughter Elizabeth, Phyllis Whitney Dow, Percy Whitney and wife Edith, Vern Inman and wife Miriam. Cousins Evelyn Pearson Towle and Milton Inman were unable to attend.

The Universalist Church Board meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 19, at the home of Nancy Willard.

Goodwill Fellowship will have a potluck supper with Eleanor Inman on Monday, Oct. 23.

There will be a special party for Ellis Ellingwood on Sunday, Oct. 22, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Fire Station. The public is invited.

A spring wedding is planned. Bethany is a former South Woodstock resident and is the daughter of Charles and Carolyn Lowe. Kenneth is the son of Kenneth and Susan MacDonald of Ossipee, N.H.

Congratulations to Neal and Carol Hall, who celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary with Kellie and Brad Record. They all went to the Balsams in Dixville Notch, N.H., for the grand buffet and said it was super.

Carol and Neal, Kellie and Brad ran into Ken Grover and Laurie and Ken's twins, Brooke and Ken, who were all shopping at L.L. Cotes.

Frank Greene was a lucky permit winner for the moose hunt and got a young bull moose that weighed between 600 and 700 pounds. The sub-permit holder was Ed Record, and Brad Record went along as photographer.

Phelps and Joan Poland, along with Phil and Terry Merrill, spent the past weekend at Bar Harbor looking over the sights. They said the leaves were extra beautiful this year.

Margie Delgado, who was an exchange student several years ago and lived with Phelps and Joan Poland, called from Lima, Peru. She was interested in how everything was with the family, Margie seems to be doing and feeling fine.

Sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Lena Mustonen, who died Oct. 9. I worked with Lena many years ago in Penley's Mill. I will also miss seeing her when she walked to the West Paris Post Office to get her mail.

Sympathy also goes out to the family of Walter Phillips (Gus), who died recently. He is the father of Brad Phillips of South Woodstock.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reported that the society encourages you to join. Dues are $2 a year if you pay each year and life memberships are reasonable. The society needs a larger membership, though it manages well now. The benefits to all members are also very real, so please join. Mr. Billings also reported that the society has limited resources but it makes the very best of all it has. Sometimes that counts for far more than great advantages.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that an expert is one who takes a subject you already know and makes it sound confusing."

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan
When I write the name of our town, I often think of how the City might have looked. In times of staging, a traveler always remembered the long road through the woods and among the rocks for miles, without seeing a house. He recalled the road around a beautiful, little pond on one side and a perpendicular high cliff on the other. This was a wild and romantic spot, always rousing the attention of the traveler.

Greenwood City, then, was a little village with two hotels, half a dozen dwellings, a little church, a sawmill and a store. In about an hour in 1862 all that was changed, for the whole village was practically destroyed by fire.

Right now there is no place more beautiful, with all its colored leaves, little ponds and friendly neighbors.

Yes, there are still places where forests grow; where quietness reigns and little brooks flow. Look to them and leave your care. You'll find rare beauty for it's always there.

This last week we had a hawk that destroyed our robin that I have had since early spring. It swooped down one afternoon and took the mother, or father, and flew away with it. Nothing could be done to save them, so the whole family was destroyed. I miss them, for I had watched them work so hard to make their nest and start their family.

I haven't been to church for many weeks, for I can't stay up that long. I hope to go again soon.

I had several visitors this week and was taken for a couple of rides. I enjoyed the beauty so much.

Mason Township

by Richard Grover
We were all glad to see Don Aylward home from the hospital last Friday, more than a week after being gored by a bull moose. When we talked to him on Saturday, he said, "That's one experience I don't care if I never go through again." He still gets heavy doses of pain medication, and he says these injuries are a lot sorer than when he had open-heart surgery a couple years ago.

Don and Elsie related their experiences of that fateful night a couple weeks ago. Elsie said that after Don went out, she was in the kitchen waiting for him to come back. "First the dog came running up on the deck all out of breath; then I saw Donald kind of stagger to the steps of the deck, where he stopped, all hunched over. I opened the door and asked him what happened, worried that he had had a heart attack. There he stood, all covered with dirt and blood. And he said, 'I just got run over by a moose!' Oh sure, I thought, figuring that he had done something

'Yerma' at Gould Academy

On Wednesday, Oct. 25, a theatre group from Kents College Pembury will be at Gould Academy to present Federico Garcia Lorca's play, "Yerma." Set in Spain in the 1930s, "Yerma" portrays a woman whose desires are tragically frustrated. The play embodies appeals for freedom, justice, and sexual and social equality. English, Spanish and theatre students from several area high schools will attend the performance, and the public is welcome. The play begins at 7:30 p.m. in Gould Academy's Bingham Auditorium. There is no charge for admission.

dumb and was just pulling my chain."

Don's experience reminded me of my own encounter with a bear in July when I went outside to see what our dog, Pooka, was barking at. That could have been nasty if the bear had not decided to turn the other way. Anyway, Don and I have decided that, here in Mason anyway, if your dog is outside and barking after dark, let him bark. Stay inside where it's safe.

I keep remembering some of our experiences on our September trip to the West. After we left my daughter, Anita's home, we drove south to Mount St. Helens, which erupted with a gigantic bang in 1980. We were lucky to have a beautiful day to see the crater and hike along Johnston Ridge, facing the mountain from a distance of about five miles. Anyone who has not been there should make the effort next time they happen to be on the West Coast. It is almost inconceivable that a force so destructive could blast everything in its path with white-hot lava, rock and debris for a distance of 10 or 12 miles, and incinerate all the vegetation for another four or five miles with a hot wind. The magnitude of the force was a surprise even to the scientists who were monitoring the mountain; they knew it was going to erupt, just not when or with what force. In fact, Johnston Ridge is named for a volcanologist who was on the ridge when the mountain blew; his remains have never been found — just some of his instruments and parts of his camper.

The Visitors Center shows a 10- or 15-minute video that details the eruption and has striking footage of the actual mountain being blown directly at the viewer. I think some of it must have been in Johnston's camera, or that of another couple who barely escaped alive from a few miles downstream. See it if you have the opportunity. Closer to home, I went into the old gundrilling shop the other day to mail a package to my daughter. While there, Eeyore and Hobbs asked me if I had seen the picture of the crescent moon on the bulletin board. When I pled ignorance, I was informed that Eeyore was treated to another full moon as he arrived at the shop recently; this time, he was prepared with a camera. Trouble was, he had trouble getting the target into the viewfinder, and the subject had his trousers nearly up by the time the picture was shot.

From Jr. Achievement

Junior Achievement (JA) is moving ahead, with Grade-Five classes tentatively set to begin in early November.

Mary Merrill, social studies curriculum coordinator, has met with fifth-grade teachers to help establish firm dates for the five-week classes. These classes will be taught one hour each week by volunteer consultants.

Eight volunteer consultants from area businesses were recently trained in JA procedures and instructional materials in preparation for their new roles. These trained to date include Darlene Baker, Northeast Bank; Jordan Ginsberg, Eric Schandelmeyer, Carol White, Bob Harkins, Skip Bennett and Charles Dickerman, all from Sunday River Ski Resort; and Bo Boden, self-employed. Another training class was held this week.

JA Advisory Council representatives will meet with Mary Merrill and her committee to coordinate with consultants and teachers on starting dates.

The JA Advisory Council has set a goal to introduce JA in 19 classes this first year. We have secured the necessary financial support to obtain instructional materials for all classes. Classes targeted this year include grades one, three and five in all elementary schools in SAD44 and a class in personal economics at Telstar Middle School.

The Social Studies Curriculum Committee arranged to hold all Grade-Five classes at the same time to allow the teachers to share feedback. Grade-Three classes and Grade-One classes will also be held at the same time, one in the winter and another in the spring.

Additional information about this developing program may be received from Robin Mills, JA Advisory Council chairperson (824-3768), your local school office, or Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce (824-2282).

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call our beloved brother, Raymond Buck, from our midst and in view of the loss in our grange and community.

Therefore be it resolved that it is a just and fitting tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting his passing, we mourn for one who served faithfully, cheerfully and diligently for many years, his grange and his community and will be sorely missed by all;

Therefore be it further resolved that we spread a copy of these resolutions on our records, have a copy printed in The Bethel Citizen; and a copy sent to his family. Alder River Grange #145 extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.
